Lewis & Hickey were appointed to work with Lend Lease Projects on the design, procurement and implementation of the Canary Wharf Headquarters for the successful London Olympic 2012 bid.

The initial office space of 66,000 square feet (at the L22, Churchill Place address), is to grow to 430,000 square feet over a 7 year programme to accommodate all the staff involved in delivering a successful event in 2012. The final number of inhabitants is expected to be in the region of 4000.

The design concept centres around a central service core that is wrapped in dynamic graphics for staff motivation and to emphasise the energy of such a prestigious project.

The office space surrounding this core focuses on transparency, using semi opaque graphics applied to glass where a degree of privacy is required and a variety of open meeting and break out areas to promote a innovative and modern working environment.
